"Marina Redux":
The Return of Marina Fogarty Vallana & Her Wines
Sunday November 9th @ 4:30 ++ (see note below)
Price $75 per person complete

I was ecstatic when Marina called a few weeks ago and said she was going to be in the area this fall and would we like to do another dinner? Of course, I said, but it would need to be different from our May 2013 event. No problem as she is just re-releasing an historic vintage of Gattinara, the 1997, and this would be the jewel in the crown. Also we will be the first USA consumers to taste the new 2011 "Bernardo Vallana" Special Selection Spanna (Nebbiolo) which she will bring with her as it is not yet released. We will contrast this with the 2010 version of the same wine as the vintages are quite different. She also thinks that the 2007 Boca (Nebbiolo/Vespolina) is at an interesting stage of development, so she has asked us to dip into our reserves to taste this one with us. Our opening wine will be the new 2012 Barbera which is a lovely aperitif red and was only released late last year after our last event.

++ The NY Giants-Seahawks game will be available on the lobby TV for those who cannot miss it.
